

Biodata: Joaquim Vicente Vinte & Çise Çavuşođlu

Joaquim Vicente Vinte is a lecturer at the Faculty of Education, Licungo University in Mozambique. He has worked as an Instructor at Near East University in Northern Cyprus, where he is currently pursuing his PhD in English Language Education. He received his BA and MA in English Language Teaching at the Pedagogical University in Mozambique. His research interest includes Academic writing, the use of technology in education, the teaching of EFL/ESL, and EFL/ESL research methodologies. He has publications in different international journals, and he serves as a peer reviewer for some of them.

Çise Çavuşođlu completed her BA in English Language Teaching and MEd in Educational Sciences at Eastern Mediterranean University. She received her PhD in Education, which was funded by the ESRC Quota Award, from King's College London in 2010. She served as the Head of the Department of ELT and the Director of the Education Unit at Near East University for several years. She is currently serving as the Vice Director of Atatürk Teacher Training Academy (ATTA). She has supervised several research projects related to methodologies of foreign language learning and teaching, and multilingualism.