

Biodata: Md Zahangir Alam, Mohammad Mosiur Rahman, & Farhana Binte Mizan

Md Zahangir Alam has recently completed his MEd in Second Language Education from the faculty of education at the University of Manitoba. He is currently working at Red River College Polytech in Winnipeg, Canada. His research interests include issues in TESOL, applied linguistics, and teacher education.

Mohammad Mosiur Rahman is a PhD Candidate at The Hong Kong Polytechnic University. He is also working as a Senior Lecturer at the Department of English at the University of Liberia Arts (ULAB). His research interests are interdisciplinary issues in language education and applied linguistics from secondary to higher education. He has widely published papers in many notable journals including Bilingualism and English Today.

Farhana Binte Mizan is a former lecturer at the Department of English at the Asian University of Bangladesh. Her research interests include nuances of integrating technology in education and issues in TESOL and applied linguistics.