

Biodata: Mohammad Moninoor Roshid & Shaila Sultana

Mohammad Moninoor Roshid (PhD) is a professor at the Institute of Education and Research, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh. Dr. Roshid also works as a research and training consultant for the Bangladesh Government, the British Council, Save the Children, BYLC, the International Labour Organization (ILO), the World Bank, and the University of Leeds, UK. Additionally, he has taught English as an Additional Language (EAL) to immigrants and international students at Australian Catholic University and Baxter Institute. Dr. Roshid's research portfolio includes numerous publications on language education, graduate employability, university-industry partnerships, professional skills development, and business communication. For more details, visit his profile.

Shaila Sultana is the Director and a professor of the BRAC Institute of Languages, BRAC University and a professor of the Institute of Modern Languages, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh. Her recent publications include a co-authored book, Popular Culture, Voice and Linguistic Diversity, a co-edited handbook titled Routledge Handbook of English Language Education in Bangladesh, and books Language in Society in Bangladesh and Beyond (Routledge, 2024) and Language and Sustainable Development in Bangladesh (Routledge, 2024). She is on the editorial boards of Language in Society (Cambridge University Press), Journal of English-medium Instruction (John Benjamins), Ampersand (Elsevier), Journal of AsiaTEFL, Crossing, Journal of BELTA, and other journals.