

Biodata: Anita Lie, Siti Mina Tamah, & Imelda Gozali

Anita Lie is a professor at Widya Mandala Catholic University, Surabaya, Indonesia. Her areas of research are teacher professional development, English education, and language policy. She is a member of the Indonesian National Accreditation Agency. She was granted SEAMEO-Jasper Fellowship Award in 2000 for her research on English curriculum in Indonesia. In 2016, she got a research grant from American Institute for Indonesian Studies (AIFIS) Luce Fellowship for her research on heritage language learning among second generation of Indonesian-Americans in California. In 2018, she got a Dedicated Scholar Award from Kompas, a leading national newspaper in Indonesia.

Siti Mina Tamah is a professor at Widya Mandala Surabaya Catholic University, Indonesia. She obtained her doctor degree from the University of Groningen, the Netherlands in 2011. She is currently a faculty member at the English Language Education of Widya Mandala Surabaya Catholic University. Her current research interest includes teaching-learning methods, assessment, and teachers' professional development.

Imelda Gozali is a Ph.D. student in the Graduate School of English Language Education, Faculty of Letters, Universitas Negeri Malang, Indonesia. She obtained her master's degree in English Language Education from Widya Mandala Surabaya Catholic University, where she is also working as a faculty member. Her current research interest is in teaching English writing, feedback literacy, the use of technology in language learning, and teachers' professional development.