

Biodata: Kimberley M. Migallos & Jose Cristina M. Parina

Kimberley M. Migallos is an Assistant Professor from the Department of Educational Leadership and Management Department at De La Salle University Manila. She is the current Graduate Program Coordinator and the Undergraduate Practicum Coordinator. She finished her bachelor's degree in Literature. Her master's degree is in English Language Teaching. She completed her PhD in Educational Leadership and Management at the same university. Her research publications and paper presentations are on English language teaching, Language Assessment and Visionary leadership.

Jose Cristina M. Parina was an Associate Professor in the Department of English and Applied Linguistics at De La Salle University-Manila. She was the former Vice-Chair and Graduate School Coordinator of the said department and former Director of the Center of Language Learning of the Br. Andrew Gonzales – College of Education. She finished her undergraduate studies until her Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics at the same university. She has published research articles in the field of Language Teaching, Sociolinguistics, and Language and humor and has been invited to numerous paper presentations abroad in the said fields.