

Biodata: Behruz Lotfi Gaskaree, Peyman Valizadeh, & Farideh Okati

Behruz Lotfi Gaskaree is assistant professor of applied linguistics at University of Zabol, Sistan and Balouchestan, Iran. He teaches Teaching Methodology, Language Assessment and Testing, English for Academic Purposes, Academic Writing and Research Methodology. He has published on EAP themes and teacher education.

Peyman Valizadeh is an MA candidate at University of Zabol. His research interest includes teacher education, second language acquisition, and discourse/genre analysis.

Farideh Okati is an assistant professor of linguistics at University of Zabol, Iran, where she teaches linguistics, sociolinguistics, phonology and discourse analysis to graduate students. She has published articles dealing with issues in linguistics, phonology, and discourse analysis.