

Biodata: Canan Şaban & Derin Atay

Canan Şaban is an instructor in the School of Languages at Özyeğin University in İstanbul, Turkey. She received her BA in English Language Teaching from Boğaziçi University in 2003, MA in Educational Administration and Supervision from Yeditepe University in 2011, and Ph.D. in English Language Teaching from Bahçeşehir University in 2020. She has been actively taking part in teaching EAP at the tertiary level, designing and evaluating courses, and developing, monitoring, and revising assessment systems. Her interests are curriculum, course design, testing and assessment, differentiated instruction, and individual differences in foreign language learning.

Derin Atay (Ph.D. in English Language Education) has undertaken research mainly in pre-and in-service teacher education, particularly on teacher development. She has published articles in various journals, authored a book on the transformation of teacher education, and coauthored book chapters on the role of culture in education.