

Bio-Data: Jenny Montaña-González & Marco Cancino

Jenny Montaña-González is a teacher of English with a Master's Degree in Teaching English as a foreign language from Universidad Andres Bello, Chile. Moreover, she got certificates in English Language Development from New Mexico State University, USA. Her areas of research interest are approaches to L2 instruction, language learning strategies and self-efficacy beliefs.

Marco Cancino is an academic researcher at Universidad Andres Bello in Santiago, Chile. He graduated from the MSc in Applied Linguistics and SLA programme at Oxford University, UK, and received his doctorate in Applied Linguistics at Bristol University, UK. He is interested in vocabulary learning and language learning strategies.