

Biodata Diana Purwati, M. Faruq Ubaidillah, Greg Restall

Diana Purwati is a lecturer and the chief of Language Development Center, STKIP Yapis Dompus, NTB, Indonesia. She obtained her Master of Education in TESOL at The University of South Australia. She was an awardee of Australia Awards Scholarship. Diana's research interests are on Language and Culture, EFL/ESL, Language and Identity, Translanguaging, and Technology in Education.

M. Faruq Ubaidillah is a faculty member in the Department of English Education, Universitas Islam Malang. He is currently undertaking Doctor by Research in the Faculty of Languages and Arts, Universitas Negeri Yogyakarta. His publications have appeared in reputable international journals. His expertise lies in the area of identity in language learning, narrative inquiry in ELT, L2 socialization, and language teaching methodology.

Greg Restall is a lecturer in the School of Education at the University of South Australia. His teaching and doctoral supervision focuses on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) in local and international education settings. His research draws on his professional and academic expertise in digital technologies and languages education.