

In this issue of the journal there are a variety of articles ranging from suggestions for using the computer in the classroom to a discussion of the concepts of teacher training and development.

We think the book reviews will be of interest to two distinct groups of teachers-both the general classroom teacher and those involved with ESP work. We look forward to seeing you at the Convention and would encourage you to consider writing articles or book reviews for future issues.

Sincerely,

Leslie W. Adams

Suzanne D. Stephens