

Biodata: Fatemeh Khonamri, Baqer Yaqubi, & Esmail Sokhandan

Fatemeh Khonamri is assistant professor of TEFL at the University of Mazandaran. She has been teaching at undergraduate, graduate, and postgraduate levels for more than 20 years. She has supervised more than 40 theses and dissertations, given and attended several workshops and presented papers in a number of national and international conferences. She has published papers in a number of credited journals. Her main areas of research interest include reading research, teacher cognition, metacognition, corrective feedback, assessment, and evaluation as well as textbook evaluation and materials development.

Baqer Yaqubi is associate professor of TEFL at the University of Mazandaran. He has been teaching at undergraduate, graduate, and postgraduate levels for more than 25 years. He has supervised a great number of theses and dissertations, presented, and published a lot of papers in a number of national and international conferences and journals. His main areas of research interest include conversation analysis, grounded theory and classroom interaction.

Esmail Sokhandan is an MA graduate from the department of English Language of the University of Mazandaran. He is an English teacher who teaches high school students in Golestan province. His main area of research interest is teaching/learning approaches and theories and translanguaging research.