

Biodata: Behzad Mansouri & Parvaneh Yaghoubi Jami

Behzad Mansouri is a research methodologist and program evaluator at Lakeshore Foundation, Birmingham, Alabama. He holds a PhD in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa. His main areas of research include second language acquisition, teacher education, language policy and planning, and language teacher identity and agency. His research has appeared in scholarly outlets such as System, Pedagogy, Culture & Society, and TESOL Encyclopedia of ELT, among others.

Parvaneh Yaghoubi Jami holds the position of Scientist I in department of Health Service Administration, University of Alabama at Birmingham. She received her PhD in Educational Psychology from the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa. Her research interests include the social and psychological foundations of learning, personality assessment, and interconnection of bi-/multiculturalism and perceptions of emotion and empathy. Her scholarship has appeared in the Journal of Moral Education, Current Psychology, and Frontiers in Psychology among others.