Biodata: Mohammad Mosiur Rahman, Manjet Kaur Meharsingh, & Md Salman Fersi

Mohammad Mosiur Rahman is a PhD Fellow (3rd year) at the School of Languages, Literacies and Translation, Universiti Sains Malaysia. He is also a lecturer (currently on study leave) at BRAC Institute of Languages (BIL), BRAC University in Bangladesh. From macro-level language policy, curriculum development and implementation to micro-level classroom language teaching, he has published widely. His work has appeared in prestigious international journals with a high impact factor/CiteScore such as English Today (Cambridge University Press, UK), Asian Englishes (Taylor & Francis, UK), English Teaching & Learning (SpringerNature, Germany), The Journal of Asia TEFL (ASIA TEFL, South Korea), The Qualitative Report (Nova SouthEastern University, USA), Language Testing in Asia (SpringerNature, Germany), Open Linguistics (DE Gruyter, Germany), MEXTESOL (MEXTESOL, Mexico) among others.

Manjet Kaur Meharsingh (PhD) is an associate professor and currently holds the position of Deputy Dean of Research, Innovation and Industry-Community Engagement at the School of Languages, Literacies and Translation, Universiti Sains Malaysia. Her research interests include higher education, academic literacies, international students, and language learning. She publishes widely in indexed journals, and book chapters. She is also the Managing Editor of IJoLLT and sits on the editorial board of indexed international journals.

Md Salman Fersi is an English Teacher working at Shamsul Hoque Khan School & College with the recognition of a passionate, student-centred educator continually seeking to improve learning. His classroom learning environment promotes fun, growth, and a sense of family. He has a Master's Degree in English from North South University and in Education from the University of Dhaka and a Bachelor's Degree in English from Bangladesh Islami University. His research interest is in educational evaluation and research.