

Biodata: Onur Özkaynak & Hilal Peker

Onur Özkaynak is a doctoral student at the Ohio State University, specializing in multilingual language education. His research interests include language teacher education, language ideologies, educational sociolinguistics, Global Englishes, and multilingual language education.

Hilal Peker (Ph.D., University of Central Florida, 2016) is the Federal Projects Coordinator and Educational Policy Consultant at the Bureau of Federal Educational Programs of Florida Department of Education. She also teaches a wide variety of courses at the University of Central Florida, Florida State University, Framingham State University, Saint Leo University, and Florida Gulf Coast University. Her research interests include inclusive dual-language immersion programs, reconceptualized L2 motivational self-system (R-L2MSS), bullying-victimization of L2 learners, L2 identity, simulation technology, and pre-service teacher training.