

Biodata: Sellenne Ríos-Higuera & Elizabeth Ruíz-Esparza

Since 2010, Sellenne Ríos-Higuera has been a professor at Escuela Normal Superior, plantel Hermosillo (ENSH), in the state of Sonora, México. In 2009, she obtained her bachelor's degree in English Teaching at Universidad de Sonora; in 2014, her master's degree in Special Education at ENSH; and in 2022, her doctorate degree in Humanities at Universidad de Sonora. Her research interests are English teaching, reading comprehension, academic writing, assessment, and teacher education. Currently, she is a member of the research group "Procesos de enseñanza y aprendizaje en la formación inicial y en la práctica docente".

Elizabeth Ruiz-Esparza has the Doctor of Applied Linguistics from Macquarie University (Sydney, Australia) and an MA in Education from the Institute of Education University of London (UK). She teaches in the BA in English Language Teaching at the University of Sonora and coordinates the Research Group of Applied Linguistics in Foreign Languages. She is a member of the Mexican public universities national network of research groups in foreign languages (RECALE) where she conducts joint studies with its members. Her publications and research interests are teaching practice, teacher education and assessment. She has presented her work in national and international conferences.